Welcome to chasefest

Over the past five years, chasefest has grown and grown and this year it's back - BIGGER, BRIGHTER (weather permitting!) and BETTER than ever before.

For those of you that have never experienced chasefest, it's simple - the week is made up of a series of workshops, performances and experiences run by professional artists and teachers. We have great fun all week, and then celebrate chasefest with our grand finale - Chase Rocks.

I want to attend a workshop:

Great! Simply add your name to the lists outside of the venues. The lists will be taken down on Friday 19th June. Be warned - there are limited spaces.

I'm not really interested in any of the workshops:

That's fine! We have the big finale, Chase Rocks, on Friday 26th June where you will be able to enjoy going to an outside gig, with food, sports and entertainment.

Enjoy - it's all for you!

The day will focus on the acceptance of diversity within our school and society and we hope students will take part in the planned events and find them both enjoyable and rewarding.

Cultural IDENTITY

We will be exploring the differences between religions and cultures and looking at the meaning and traditions behind different symbols and dress.

Jono Lancaster has Treacher Collins syndrome, it is a genetic disorder that affects the growth and development of the head. It prevents the skull, cheek and jawbones from developing properly. Jono will be talking about his experiences of living with the condition.

We will be welcoming a representative from the Stonewall organisation and looking at the importance of recognising the different types of sexuality that exist within society.
