

Summer Research Task – BTEC Drama

Over the summer holiday you are required to research the life and work of two theatre practitioners: Bertolt Brecht and Alecky Blythe.

Find out what you can about their life and the work that they have created. Copied and pasted information is fine but you must include the URL address of where you found the information and annotate the work with your thoughts and opinions. Watching videos and making notes would also be appropriate. You will also be required to purchase a copy of the script “Little Revolution” when we start the course, so it may be worth considering buying this over the summer.

The work must be printed and with you for your first drama lesson in September. Be prepared to discuss what you have found and your opinions.

Some links to get you started:

<https://almeida.co.uk/little-revolution-from-the-streets-to-the-stage>

<https://www.theguardian.com/stage/2014/sep/04/little-revolution-review-verbatim-theatre-alecky-blythe-captures-rifts-rage-riots>